HCC continues to advocate for businesses at state and federal levels

FEDERAL: Federally, last month your HCC reach out and meet with US Senator Catherine Masto's state director and Congresswoman to discuss matters important to you, the health business and the long-term investments our making now that is impacted by tomorrow's decisions.

STATE: On January 17, your HCC Board Tim Brooks, was in Carson City as the guest of Assemblywoman Irene Bustamante Adams for Sandoval's 2017 Nevada State of the State. Indeed, while it was an honor to be present special group for such an occasion, it was an ensure that HCC's 1,300-member strong was represented amongst our state legislators.

The HCC has been hard-at-work advocating on the Nevada Legislative session began just this Carson City, Nevada. Your Legislative chaired by Aviva Gordon of Gordon Law, has been combing through bills since November and will continue until all have been filed in order to pull and review bills that touch HCC's core issue areas: economic development, taxes and regulations, education and workforce readiness, infrastructure and healthcare. Meanwhile, while still reviewing bills, the committee has already been working together with the Lieutenant Governor's office to assist on matters to ensure your business is protected.

Next week, on February 14, HCC's Legislative Delegation will travel to the state's capitol to participate in the 79th Nevada Legislative Session and meet with legislators throughout the day to discuss policy perspectives that foster economic growth, jobs and new opportunities for our members. In fact, the HCC's focal point this session is on economic development, specifically workforce development matters that you - our members - have communicated clearly is of utmost concern to you as you continue build your business. Our conversations in the state's capitol will also emphasize HCC's support of the appropriation of capital funds to assist local colleges, safeguarding transportation alternatives for the future as well as discussions surrounding minimum wage, taxes and regulations. Following a jammed packed day of meetings, the HCC's Legislative Delegation looks forward to its Legislative Reception, hosted at the Governor's Mansion, to enhance and build relationships with our state's elected officials alongside a number of HCC members who are also in Carson City to advocate on behalf of their organization. (A special thank you to our reception sponsors, City of Henderson, Emerald Island Casino, Sansone Companies, CenturyLink and Southwest Gas for your support.)
